WWW.PREVLLY.COM

PREVLLY is a Polish company that was founded out of need and passion. Our product - PREVLLY is smart plaster which is breakthrough on the medical market and a milestone in improving the living standards of millions of patients suffering from pressure ulcers around the world. Research and development are the pillars on which we base our activities. Having such foundations we boldly look to the future. Our PREVLLY plaster is a technologically advanced, comprehensive, preventive anti-bed sore plaster. Innovation on a global scale consists in the fact that PREVLLY through its functionalities and properties, reaches all known factors causing the formation of pressure ulcers and thus stimulates the user's body to actively react and defend. None of the previous methods of prevention is so comprehensive and does not cause active body work of the exposed person.

- Innovation

We are actively looking for new non-standard solutions. We are ready to take on challenges and initiate cooperation that goes beyond our own area of operation.

- Quality

We constantly improve our knowledge and skills. We take care of every detail of work in the organization, we perform all its elements with commitment and due diligence. We operate in accordance with accepted standards.

- Operational excellence

We take responsibility for the decisions and actions we take. We constantly improve the existing company processes and our own competences.

- Flexibility

We accept the changes and see the opportunities resulting from them. We have the ability to modify priorities.
